

Australia's Political Donations Regime: Not in the public interest – so whose?

Dr Colleen Lewis, Adjunct Professor, National Centre for Australian Studies, Monash University

Speaking notes – Australasian Study of Parliament Group annual conference, Adelaide, 5-7 October 2016

Australians badly let down by its political donations regime

how – patchwork approach; allows for gaming of the system

why – vested interest urge taking precedent over public office-public trust principle and hence the public interest

Willful Neglect

Joint Standing Committee on Electoral Matters

COAG

Reform essential

Key players in the reform process

Possible ways forward